Magnesium Pool 150k / 200k

Magnesium Chloride is derived from the ocean. This form of magnesium has been found to have significant beneficial properties for internal health, as well as helping to relax the mind and body. Studies shows that absorbing magnesium chloride through the skin (transdermal) is one of the most effective ways for the body to maintain healthy levels of this.

Magnesium is responsible for many regenerative cellular processes in the body. It can support detoxification, reduce stress and alleviate aches. It promotes energy and wellbeing and can restore soft and healthy skin. This mineral normalises our nerve and muscle functioning, helps with heartbeat rhythm, bone strength, a healthy immune system, blood pressure and regulating sugar levels. It has proven to fight the underlying causes of acne and also is an anti-inflammatory agent that fights insulin resistance, helps as a sleep aid, relieves stress and removes factors that contribute to skin disorders.
